

The Jr. Livestock Program
Strengthens Communities

Every year Weber County youth purchase and raise 4-H and FFA livestock projects to compete at the Weber County Fair. In addition to the expense of purchasing their animal, feed, and supplies, these livestock projects require hours of hard work to feed, train and prepare their animals for showing at the fair.

Youth learn essential life skills such as communication, cooperation, responsibility, service, and leadership, along with the humane treatment of animals. They also learn that these animals are being produced as food that will end up on a consumer's plate one day.

4-H and FFA livestock projects provide opportunities for young people to develop solid values that will serve their community. The Junior Livestock Sale provides the community an opportunity to invest in our youth and their future.

Youth use the proceeds from the sale of their livestock projects to fund college educations, humanitarian service missions, or simply to get a start in life after high school.

As a buyer, your participation in the Junior Livestock Sale recognizes youth for the expense, time, and hard work that has gone into raising an animal for market.

Please support the Junior Livestock program and invest in the youth of Weber County.
